How to use these Files

Please note: The attached files are NOT all the files you need to successfully build and run the app!

Instead, these are the core source files we worked on. Copy them into your existing React Native project or, better: Compare your files to mine. These are the exact files I created in the videos.

Make sure to install and link any third-party libraries if we did so throughout the module.